So you're an international arbitrator, how to approach and handle some of the issues that may arise.

This session will cover a number of issues that international arbitrators may face during an international arbitration. The panel will discuss how to determine which jurisdiction's law should apply and how different laws (i.e., substantive laws, procedural laws, specialized laws) that may apply impact that determination as they interpret the arbitration agreement. Additionally, the panel will discuss other issues that may arise during the international arbitration, including the managing of parties' expectations – civil law and common law tradition, managing the exchange of information ("discovery") phase, managing dilatory tactics, ex parte proceedings (non-participating, non-paying party), requests for early dispositions, the allocation of costs, managing tribunal dynamics and the approach to drafting the award, deliberations and possible dissents.
