

Fabian Zetina

Fabian Zetina is an associate at BakerHostetler. He handles international litigation and arbitration matters in English and Spanish in several jurisdictions across the globe, with a focus in Latin America. He represents sovereigns, their instrumentalities, and corporations in commercial and investment treaty arbitrations in a variety of industries that include mining, construction, and oil and gas under the major arbitration rules. He has also served as an assistant to arbitrators in commercial disputes. Fabian is an Assistant Editor for South and Central America with the Kluwer Arbitration Blog and has participated actively in academia as a guest lecturer in investment arbitration and human rights, assistant professor of civil contracts, foreign investment in Guatemala and transnational corporate law at his former law school, Universidad Francisco Marroquin. Fabian is a founding member of Guatemala Very Young Arbitration Practitioners and has served as Vice-Chair of the International Law Committee of the Young Lawyers Division of the American Bar Association (2021-2022).
