

Preeti Bhagnani

Preeti Bhagnani is a New York-based partner in White & Case's top ranked International Arbitration Practice. She represents private parties and sovereigns around the world on the resolution of high-stakes disputes arising from cross-border business transactions and international investment treaties. Her experience includes disputes in a range of industries including oil & gas, natural resources, power, financial services, life sciences, real estate development and water supply. She has repeatedly been identified as an emerging leader in the field by Global Arbitration Review's Who's Who Legal in the Future Leaders category. Clients and peers say she "offers commercial solutions" and "leaves no stone unturned in a case" (2022 Who's Who Legal – Future Leaders). Preeti has practiced in New York and Singapore.